Criteria for awarding articulated college credit at South Plains College:

- Achieve mastery of the content-enhanced CTE Articulated high school course by earning a minimum grade of 80 (3.0 or higher).
- Enroll at South Plains College within 15 months of high school graduation, meeting all admission requirements (see College Catalog-for admission requirements).
- Submit an official high school transcript showing the CTE Articulated course to SPC.
- Inform your college counselors and faculty advisors of your CTE Articulated status and submit this application to the Admissions and Records Office.
- Successfully complete 6 semester hours of college-level work at South Plains College. (Dual credit, CLEP examinations and/or AP credit may count for the 6 hours.)
- Articulated course should appear in the college catalog and be included in the technical certificate or degree plan declared by the student.

Check your college transcript upon completion of 6 semester hours to verify articulated CTE courses from high school have been added. A CTE Articulated course should have a letter "A" after the course abbreviation on the high school transcript indicating it is a CTE Articulated class. Check with your high school counselor to ensure your transcript includes correctly coded CTE Articulated courses. CTE Articulated is not the same as dual credit taken in high school. Take advantage of both. CTE Articulated credit may transfer to some, but not all, four-year universities.
