Attendance Policy:

Students are expected to attend all classes in order to be successful in a course. The student may be administratively withdrawn from the course when absences become excessive as defined in the course syllabus.

When an unavoidable reason for class absence arises, such as illness, an official trip authorized by the college or an official activity, the instructor may permit the student to make up work missed. It is the student's responsibility to complete work missed within a reasonable period of time as determined by the instructor. Students are officially enrolled in all courses for which they pay tuition and fees at the time of registration. Should a student, for any reason, delay in reporting to a class after official enrollment, absences will be attributed to the student from the first class meeting.

Students who enroll in a course but have "Never Attended" by the official census date, as reported by the faculty member, will be administratively dropped by the Office of Admissions and Records. A student who does not meet the attendance requirements of a class as stated in the course syllabus and does not officially withdraw from that course by the official census date of the semester, may be administratively withdrawn from that course and receive a grade of "X" or "F" as determined by the instructor. Instructors are responsible for clearly stating their administrative drop policy in the course syllabus, and it is the student's responsibility to be aware of that policy.

It is the student's responsibility to verify administrative drops for excessive absences through MySPC using his or her student online account. If it is determined that a student is awarded financial aid for a class or classes in which the student never attended or participated, the financial aid award will be adjusted in accordance with the classes in which the student did attend/participate and the student will owe any balance resulting from the adjustment.

See instructor's Course Information Sheet for additions to the attendance policy.

Disability Services Policy:

Students with disabilities, including but not limited to physical, psychiatric, or learning disabilities, who wish to request accommodations in this class should notify the Disability Services Office early in the semester so that the appropriate arrangements may be made. In accordance with federal law, a student requesting accommodations must provide acceptable documentation of his/her disability to the Disability Services Office. . For more information, call or visit the Disability Services Office at Levelland (Student Health & Wellness Office) 806-7162577, Reese Center (Building 8) & Lubbock Center 806-716-4675, or Plainview Center (Main Office) 806-716-4302 or 806-296-9611. See South Plains College General Catalog for more information.

Academic Integrity Policy: It is the aim of the faculty of South Plains College to foster a spirit of complete honesty and a high standard of integrity. The attempt of any student to present as his or her own any work which he or she has not honestly performed is regarded by the faculty and administration as a most serious offense and renders the offender liable to serious consequences, possibly suspension.

Cheating: Dishonesty of any kind on examinations or on written assignments, illegal possession of examinations, the use of unauthorized notes during an examination, obtaining information during an examination from the text- book or from the examination paper of another student, assisting others to cheat, alteration of grade records, illegal entry or unauthorized presence in an office are examples of cheating. Complete honesty is required of the student in the presentation of any and all phases of course work. This applies to quizzes of what- ever length, as well as to final examinations, to daily reports and to term papers.

Plagiarism: Offering the work of another as one's own, without proper acknowledgment, is plagiarism; therefore, any student who fails to give credit for quotations or essentially identifiable expression of material taken from books, Internet resources, encyclopedias, magazines and other reference works, or from the themes, reports or other writings of a fellow student, is guilty of plagiarism. See South Plains College Student Guide 2015-2016, pages 13 and 14 and South Plains College General Catalog 2015-2016, page 22. See instructor's course information sheet for more information.

Student Conduct Policy:

Classroom Conduct:

Failure to comply with lawful direction of a classroom teacher relative to maintaining good order is considered misconduct on the part of the student. Repeated violations of disrupting a class may result in the student being dropped from that course. See South Plains College Student Guide 2015-2016, pages 13 through 18 for full policy covering other areas of conduct including penalties for misconduct and procedures for disciplinary action.

Campus Concealed Carry syllabus statement:

Campus Concealed Carry - Texas Senate Bill - 11 (Government Code 411.2031, et al.) authorizes the carrying of a concealed handgun in South Plains College buildings only by persons who have been issued and are in possession of a Texas License to Carry a Handgun. Qualified law enforcement officers or those who are otherwise authorized to carry a concealed handgun in the State of Texas are also permitted to do so. Pursuant to Penal Code (PC) 46.035 and South Plains College policy, license holders may not carry a concealed handgun in restricted locations. For a list of locations, please refer to the SPC policy at: (http://www.southplainscollege.edu/human\_resources/policy\_procedure/hhc.php) Pursuant to PC 46.035, the open carrying of handguns is prohibited on all South Plains College campuses. ## General Expectations/Policies for Students

I would like to welcome all students to this course. I consider it an honor that you have chosen to be in my online course. I want to thank you in advance for the time and hard work that you will put into this learning experience. One of the keys to being successful in college is to maintain communication with your instructor. Feel free to email any time if I can help you be successful in this course. I wish you all the luck this semester and hope that the grade that you achieve in this course will reflect the effort you put into it; we are here to work cooperatively and to learn together.

In order to create a smooth and harmonious online learning community, please make every attempt to keep up with all modules. This includes keeping up with the fast-pace of this course and complete all assignments and exams on time.

Course Requirements

The course is 100% online. You are responsible for viewing all lecture material, assigned readings, and assignments. You are expected to read the syllabus and be familiar with its contents. You are responsible for all material covered in this course. This course is self-paced but does require assignments and exams to be due according to the schedule. Students are welcome to complete course work in advance but will not be allowed to complete course work after the due date on the course schedule.

Course Information

Course information (e.g., syllabus, schedule, assignments, exams, and potential student handouts) is accessed through the Blackboard website. The student is responsible for any and all information that is posted on this site. If the student has questions/comments about this information, then she/he should contact the instructor (via SPC email).

Attendance & Late Work

Late work is not allowed! If you need to miss any portion of the course assignments (although not advised) please let the instructor know in advance, within 3 days of missing. If you miss “class” and have an SPC approved excuse (i.e., you are representing SPC at an official school function or celebrating a religious holy day) or a notice of absence from the Office of the Dean of Students, it is your responsibility to provide the written excuse from the school. In the case of an excused absence, you are still responsible for all readings, work, materials, and assignments that were missed. After contacting the instructor, upon approval, a new due date will be given for either the original assignment or an alternative assignment of equal value. If the student fails to meet the revised due date, then she/he will be given a zero (0) for the assignment.

Open Computer Lab

This course requires access to a computer and the internet for completing all assignments and exams. There is an Open Computer Lab located on the Levelland campus in the Technology Center. It is available to all students, with priority given to those students enrolled in computer classes. Computers are also available on the Reese Center, Lubbock, and Plainview campuses. Check with libraries and labs for hours.

Computer Requirements

Browser Plug-ins and Security Software: Most Web educational experience will require the use of several additional browser plug-ins. It is very highly recommended that you have an anti-virus program on your computer. You may also need Adobe Acrobat for several readings and a multimedia player such as Windows Media Player. Firefox is the supported browser for Blackboard. SPC students are offered Office 365 which includes Microsoft Word, PowerPoint, Excel, and storage on OneDrive. Please download and use it! Since this course is entirely online, participants are expected to have at least an elementary knowledge of their microcomputer operating system and basic knowledge of software and tools such as a word processor, e-mail, an Internet browser, and search engines.

Technical Problems/Support

If you are having computer problems, let the instructor know as soon as possible. I will try to help in any way I can. Please remember that it is the student’s responsibility to have a backup plan for technical issues. It is advised to have a plan in place now and do not wait until it is a crisis.

- Most tech issues are related to failure to update java, using the incorrect internet browser (try use Google Chrome or Firefox instead of Internet Explorer), and/or not deleting browsing history files daily. Most issues are related to computer issues, not Blackboard. Make sure that your computer has an up-to-date antivirus software program installed. Please note this instructor does NOT recommend use of any handheld devices like a cell phone for taking this course.

- SPC Technical Support Contact: Call (806) 716-2180 or email at Blackboard@southplainscollege.edu for student technical support. I am your course work support contact. Only call or e-mail technical support with questions about Blackboard or computer functioning. There is Technical Support information in the Start Here/Help,Resources & FAQ area of your Blackboard course. It contains links to Student Tutorials and the Student Orientation Course for Blackboard. Contact me for any course content information.

Extra Credit Activities

Extra credit opportunities will not be offered throughout the course session. However, there are three additional tasks, the Course Participation Agreement, Syllabus Quiz, and Course Evaluation which will be given additional points added to your grade upon completion (See Grading section for breakdown of points). Very rarely will extra credit be given. Please note that in the event that it is given, the points may not be significant enough to bump your grade up a letter but will be enough to supplement an assignment's low grade. Do not depend on extra credit to completely "fix" your overall grade.

Academic Integrity

In addition to the policy in the Common Course Syllabus, it should be understood that students found guilty of cheating or plagiarism will earn a zero on the work in question for the first offense and will be dropped from the course with an 'F' should a second offense occur. Any amount of dishonesty is subject to these consequences, whether a lot or a little; this can include but is not limited to: one copied sentence of a written assignment, a missing citation, an entire paper copied from someone/somewhere else, one plagiarized post on a discussion board, one copied exam item, looking at the scantron of another student during an exam or an exam or other coursework completed by someone other than yourself. You have also committed academic dishonesty when sharing course content/items/answers. This includes sharing course content with classmates or future students as well as sharing course content on websites such as Quizlet, Course Hero, or similar "study applications." For further information and examples please see the Catalog, Student Guide, or refer to www.plagiarism.org

Class Withdrawal

It is the full responsibility of the student to personally withdraw from the course if needed. A student who has already missed modules, assignments, or exams, had difficulty adequately completing assignments and exams and/or anticipates difficulty in completing the course to his/her satisfaction is encouraged to give withdrawal all the consideration it is due. A student is encouraged to discuss her/his progress with the instructor prior to making a withdrawal decision. Per SPC's attendance policies, the instructor reserves the right to drop a student for excessive absences according to SPC guidelines. In this case, the student will receive a grade of 'F' for the course.

Administrative Drop Policy

Due to Financial Aid and South Plains College requirements for participation/attendance a student who fails to turn in 5 assignments during the semester may be dropped with a grade of "X" from the course. If missed assignments occur after the final drop date the grade will be "F." Assignments in this context refer to the Revel chapter assignments as well as application assignments and exams.

It is essential that you have reliable access to the Internet. It is not necessary to purchase or own your own computer but you should have a backup plan in place should you encounter computer problems. Firefox is the recommended and supported browser for Blackboard. There are open computer labs available to all enrolled SPC students on all campuses. It is also the student's responsibility to have the required computer skills to complete this course. Should you encounter technical difficulties contact the instructor first, and/or the SPC technical support call (806) 894-9611, ext. 2180. Be sure to include course and section number information when contacting technical support.

Syllabus

The instructor reserves the right to make changes to the syllabus if necessary. In these rare cases, students will be notified of any changes in advance.

Exams & Assignments

Reading Assignments

It is expected that students read the assigned readings. Students may choose to read alongside viewing the PowerPoint lectures and fill-in-the-blank Student Notes for each Chapter Module (optional for students to utilize). Be advised that exams are not limited to what will be in the PowerPoint lecture and Student Notes. This will help when going through lectures and in assignments related to each module.

Application Assignments (A1 through A5)

Throughout the course you will be required to work on various application assignments. These assignments typically will be media-based and include questions for students to answer. Assignments must be done independently, must be typed, and due according to the schedule. Proper spelling and grammar are necessary for college course writing. If spelling and grammar are not written academically (i.e., in text message format, etc.) point deductions will be incurred. Hand-written and scanned, emailed, or late assignments will NOT be allowed. There is one application assignment, A5, in which students will be assigned a specific chapter in the textbook. From the concepts in that chapter, the student will have to discuss and connect the chapter with a world culture. This must be prepared prior to the class lecture so that it can be made available for all students as a handout.

Revel Assignments (R1 through R10)

Revel Assignments will be given throughout the course modules. The Revel assignments will consist of chapter-focused quizzes due at 11:45 pm on the date listed on the schedule. The quizzes are typically 15 questions or so with each question worth 2 points on the first attempt and 1 point on the second attempt). The points vary with each chapter but there is a total of 200 points from these assignments. It is not necessary to complete the “shared writing or journal exercises” in the Revel program. Please do not wait until the last minute to complete work. There is a very reliable app available for Pearson Revel to use on cell phones. Instructions are listed under textbook information. Late assignments will NOT be allowed.

Exams (200 points; 50 points each)

There will be 4 non-cumulative exams during the semester. The exams will cover material presented in class, as well as assigned readings or media. Exam Study Guides will be provided by the instructor to assist in preparing for the exams. Exams will include only a multiple-choice format. All exams will be completed by the due date on the schedule and you may use your notes and textbooks. Sharing notes and books will NOT be allowed. Completion of any test with the help of anyone else may result in a 0 on the exam and an 'F' in the course.

NOTE: Make-up exams for the first 3 exams will be given only in extreme situations and will only be given if you notify me prior to exam day that you will not be able to complete the exam within the 24 hour time period. Make-up exams may be of a different format than the original tests. If you are permitted to take a make-up exam, you will take it at a mutually agreed upon time, as soon after the original exam as possible. I will not allow you to make up an exam if I have not been notified prior to the exam day about your absence. The final exam will not be given at any time other than SPC's officially scheduled final exam day and time. See class schedule. Please plan your travel arrangements accordingly.

Although you are welcome to work ahead, please note that exams will only be available the week they are due. Also note that if you click to open an exam, you must complete the exam. You will not be allowed to return to it at a later time.

Sensitive Nature of Humanities and Behavioral Science Courses

Given the dynamics of individual, relational, familial, societal and cultural development and issues, behavioral studies courses address many sensitive issues; this course is no exception. Lifespan and relational issues occur in the context of sexual, racial/ethnic, political, religious/spiritual, economic/social class, and disability/challenge concerns. The discussion of such issues will increase the student's knowledge of developmental conditions in the modern world, but the information can be emotionally charged. It is also likely that the student will be exposed to diverse viewpoints; some viewpoints might differ substantially from the student's personal views. If the student chooses to remain in class, then she/he will be expected to respect the diverse viewpoints represented in course material, as well as the viewpoints of his/her classmates. If the student is easily offended by discussion of such issues, then he/she should consider whether to remain enrolled in the course.

Diversity Statement

In this class, the teacher will establish and support an environment that values and nurtures individual and group differences and encourages engagement and interaction. Understanding and respecting multiple experiences and perspectives will serve to challenge and stimulate all of us to learn about others, about the larger world and about ourselves. By promoting diversity and intellectual exchange, we will not only mirror society as it is, but also model society as it should and can be.

Revelation of Personal Information

This course addresses topics that are personal in nature. The student is encouraged to participate in class discussion/presentations, but the student is not required to share personal information with classmates. Also, the student is advised to use discretion in self-disclosure with classmates and the instructor. It is anticipated that fellow students will be respectful and not disclose information that is shared in class, but the instructor cannot guarantee confidentiality of information that the student shares with classmates. Thus, the student is responsible for the information that he/she shares, and should not share information that he/she does not want others to know.

Title IX & Pregnancy Accommodations Statement

SPC is dedicated to providing a safe and equitable learning environment for all students. If you are pregnant, or have given birth within six months, Under Title IX you have a right to reasonable accommodations to help continue your education. To activate accommodations you must submit a Title IX pregnancy accommodations request, along with specific medical documentation, to the Director of Health and Wellness. Once approved, notification will be sent to the student and instructors. It is the student's responsibility to work with the instructor to arrange accommodations. Contact Crystal Gilster, Director of Health and Wellness at 806-716-2362 or email cgilster@southplainscollege.edu for assistance.

SPC does not tolerate discrimination, sexual assault, and harassment. You are encouraged to report any incidents to SPC Campus Police Office at (806) 716-2396 or their 24 Hour Phone at (806) 891-8883. The SPC Student Health & Wellness office (<http://www.southplainscollege.edu/health/studenthealth.php>) provides support (806-894-9611) and the Voices of Hope Lubbock Rape Crisis Center has a 24-hour hotline: 806-763-RAPE (7273).
