Course description: The scientific study of human society, including ways in which groups, social institutions, and individuals affect each other. Causes of social stability and social change are explored through the application of various theoretical perspectives, key concepts, and related research methods of sociology. Analysis of social issues in their institutional context may include topics such as social stratification, gender, race/ethnicity, and deviance.

Course Purpose/Rationale/Goal: The purpose of the behavioral science component in the core curriculum is to enable the students to understand and apply sociological theories and concepts as they examine human society. To master sociology, students will be able to identify and apply the concepts and principles in the study of group life, social institutions, and social processes.

Course Requirements: To maximize the potential to complete this course, students should attend all classes, log into Blackboard multiple times per week, read required textbook/course materials, complete required homework/assignments and/or examinations. See instructor's course information sheet for specifics.

Course Evaluations: Refer to Instructor's course information sheet for specifics coursework and grading.

Attendance Policy: Students are expected to attend all classes in order to be successful in a course. The student may be administratively withdrawn from the course when absences become excessive as defined in the course syllabus.

When an unavoidable reason for class absence arises, such as illness, an official trip authorized by the college or an official activity, the instructor may permit the student to make up work missed. It is the student's responsibility to complete work missed within a reasonable period of time as determined by the instructor. Students are officially enrolled in all courses for which they pay tuition and fees at the time of registration. Should a student, for any reason, delay in reporting to a class after official enrollment, absences will be attributed to the student from the first class meeting.

Students who enroll in a course but have "Never Attended" by the official census date, as reported by the faculty member, will be administratively dropped by the Office of Admissions and Records. A student who does not meet the attendance requirements of a class as stated in the course syllabus and does not officially withdraw from that course by the official census date of the semester, may be administratively withdrawn from that course and receive a grade of "X" or "F" as determined by the instructor. Instructors are responsible for clearly stating their administrative drop policy in the course syllabus, and it is the student's responsibility to be aware of that policy.

It is the student's responsibility to verify administrative drops for excessive absences through MySPC using his or her student online account. If it is determined that a student is awarded financial aid for a class or classes in which the student never attended or participated, the financial aid award will be adjusted in accordance with the classes in which the student did attend/participate and the student will owe any balance resulting from the adjustment.

See instructor's Course Information Sheet for additions to the attendance policy.

Disability Services Policy: Students with disabilities, including but not limited to physical, psychiatric, or learning disabilities, who wish to request accommodations in this class should notify the Disability Services Office early in the semester so that the appropriate arrangements may be made. In accordance with federal law, a student requesting accommodations must provide acceptable documentation of his/her disability to the Disability Services Office. For more information, call or visit the Disability Services Office at Levelland Student Health & Wellness Center 806-716-2577, Reese Center (also covers ATC) Building 8: 806-716-4675, Plainview Center Main Office: 806-716-4302 or 806-296-9611, or the Health and Wellness main number at 806-716-2529. The attempt of any student to present as his or her own any work which he or she has not honestly performed is regarded by the faculty and administration as a most serious offense and renders the offender liable to serious consequences, possibly suspension.

Complete honesty is required of the student in the presentation of any and all phases of course work. This applies to quizzes of whatever length, as well as to final examinations, to daily reports and to term papers.
- Plagiarism: Offering the work of another as one's own, without proper acknowledgment, is plagiarism; therefore, any student who fails to give credit for quotations or essentially identifiable expression of material taken from books, Internet resources, encyclopedias, magazines and other reference works, or from the themes, reports or other writings of a fellow student, is guilty of plagiarism.

Computers are also available on the Reese Center, Lubbock, and Plainview campuses. Check with libraries and labs for hours.

Technical Problems/Support

If you are having computer problems, let the instructor know as soon as possible. I will try to help in any way I can. Please remember that it is the student's responsibility to have a backup plan for technical issues. It is advised to have a plan in place now and do not wait until it is a crisis.

- Most tech issues are related to failure to update java, using the incorrect internet browser (try use Google Chrome or Firefox instead of Internet Explorer), and/or not deleting browsing history files daily. Most issues are related to computer issues, not Blackboard. Make sure that your computer has an up-to-date antivirus software program installed. Please note this instructor does NOT recommend use of any handheld devices like a cell phone for taking this course.
- SPC Technical Support Contact: Call (806) 716-2180 or email at Blackboard@southplainscollege.edu for student technical support. I am your course work support contact. Only call or e-mail technical support with questions about Blackboard or computer functioning. There is Technical Support information in the Start Here area of your Blackboard course. It contains links to Student Tutorials and the Student Orientation Course for Blackboard. Contact me for any course content information.

Late Work

UNLESS YOU SUBMIT APPROPRIATE DOCUMENTATION WITHIN 3 DAYS, LATE PAPERS, ASSIGNMENTS, OR MAKE-UP EXAMS ARE NOT ALLOWED. YOUR PRINTER NOT WORKING IS NOT AN EXCUSE, SO PLEASE BE SURE THAT YOU ARE ABLE TO PRINT ALL ASSIGNMENTS ACCORDING TO THE COURSE REQUIREMENTS.

If written verification for an appropriate excuse is received, the instructor will provide a revised due date for either the original assignment or an alternative assignment of equal value. If the student fails to meet the revised due date, then she/he will be given a zero (0) for the assignment. Please do not wait until the last minute to turn in course work.

APA Style

There are many resources for how to write according to the (APA) American Psychological Association's style guidelines. You should refer to the APA Publication Manual 6th Edition for a full explanation. The SPC library website has resources for writing in APA format.

Extra Credit Activities

Extra credit activities will not be offered throughout the course session.

Academic Integrity

In addition to the policy in the Common Course Syllabus, it should be understood that students found guilty of cheating or plagiarism will earn a zero on the work in question for the first offense and will be dropped from the course with an 'F' should a second offense occur. Any amount of dishonesty is subject to these consequences, whether a lot or a little; this can include but is not limited to: one copied sentence of a written assignment, a missing citation, an entire paper copied from someone/somewhere else, one plagiarized post on a discussion board, one copied exam item, looking at the scantron of another student during an exam or an exam or other coursework completed by someone other than yourself. You have also committed academic dishonesty when sharing course content/items/answers. This includes sharing course content with classmates or future students as well as sharing course content on websites such as Quizlet, Course Hero, or similar "study applications." For further information and examples please see the Catalog, Student Guide, or refer to www.plagiarism.org

Methods for Assessing the Expected Learning Outcomes

The expected learning outcomes for the course will be assessed through exams, application assignments, a "Field" Assignment, a Film Analysis paper, and InQuizitive assignments.

General Expectations/Policies for Students:

I would like to welcome all students into an environment that creates a sense of community, pride, courtesy and utmost respect; we are all here to work cooperatively and to learn together.

In order to create a smooth and harmonious learning community, please make every attempt to come to all class sessions on time and stay until the end of the class unless you have informed the instructor that you must leave early. There may be a time when you are unavoidably late for class. In that case, please come into the room quietly and choose a seat closest to the entrance.

- Once the class session has begun, please do not leave the room and then re-enter unless it is an emergency. If you have an emergency, inform me on your way out and take your things with you.
- If you miss a class meeting for any reason, you are responsible for all material covered, for announcements made in your absence, and for acquiring any materials that may have been distributed in class. I do NOT give out my notes so you will need to get those from another student. Cell phones must be kept off and out of sight. Texting is NOT allowed at any time. Please consult the instructor if there is a situation where your cell phone must be available.
- Laptops can be only used for class purposes and not for checking personal email accounts, social networks, or other personal business during class. Students who do not follow this expectation will not be allowed to use their computers/laptops or similar devices during class.
- If the student's behavior (e.g., texting, using technology for non-class purposes) becomes disruptive to the instructor or other students, the student will be warned that the behavior must cease or the student will be instructed to leave the classroom. Any missed announcements, material and information is the student's responsibility to obtain.

Attendance

Attendance will be taken every class session. If you need to miss any portion of the course assignments (although not advised) please let the instructor know in advance, within 3 days of missing. If you miss class and have an SPC approved excuse (i.e., you are representing SPC at an official school function or celebrating a religious holy day) or a notice of absence from the Office of the Dean of Students, it is your responsibility to provide the written excuse from the school. In the case of an excused absence, you are still responsible for all readings, work, materials, and assignments that were missed.

Class Withdrawal

It is the full responsibility of the student to personally withdraw from the course if needed. A student who has already missed lectures, had difficulty adequately completing assignments and exams and/or anticipates difficulty in completing the course to his/her satisfaction is encouraged to give withdrawal all the consideration it is due. A student is encouraged to discuss her/his progress with the instructor prior to making a withdrawal decision. Per SPC's attendance policies, the instructor reserves the right to drop a student for excessive absences according to SPC guidelines. In this case, the student will receive a grade of 'F' for the course.

Syllabus

The instructor reserves the right to make changes to the syllabus if necessary. You will be notified of any changes in advance.

Civility in the Classroom

To create and preserve a classroom atmosphere that optimizes teaching and learning, each student shares a responsibility in creating a civil and non-disruptive forum. The student is expected to conduct herself/himself at all times in this classroom in a manner that does not disrupt teaching or learning. In order to assure that all students have an opportunity to gain from time spent in class, each student is prohibited from using cellular phones/beepers/pagers/MP3s/ipods, making offensive remarks, reading newspapers/non-class materials, sleeping, excessive/loud talking, talking during exams, using tobacco products or engaging in any other form of distraction in the classroom. The student who engages in such behaviors during course assignments (e.g., exams, papers, group projects) will not be permitted to complete or make-up the assignment and will be given a grade of zero (0) for the assignment. In addition, the instructor has the right to limit classroom discussion in order to meet the educational objectives of the class session. The instructor is authorized to take such steps as are necessary if the behavior of the student disrupts the normal classroom procedure. The instructor may remove the student for the single class session in which disruptive behavior becomes continuous and/or serious, and may begin disciplinary proceedings. (Refer to the South Plains College Student Conduct Guide, available on the South Plains College website.) If the student engages in repeated deviations from expected classroom behavior, then he/she may be dropped from the course. Violations of the Student Conduct Guide may result in serious sanctions, up to and including expulsion.

Exams & Assignments

Reading Assignments

It is expected that you read the assigned chapter readings before coming to class. This will facilitate class discussion and activities. If it is clear to me that students are not completing their reading assignments, I reserve the right to alter the syllabus to add pop quizzes into your final grade. Therefore, it is in your best interest to read and be ready to apply your knowledge in class and in the assignments.

Application Assignments (100 points total; 20 points each)

Throughout the course you will be required to work on various assignments. Assignments must be done independently, must be typed, and due according to the schedule. Hand-written and scanned, emailed, or late assignments will NOT be allowed.

Exams (200 points; 50 points each)

There will be 4 non-cumulative exams during the semester. The exams will cover material presented in class, as well as assigned readings or media. Exams will include only a multiple-choice format. All exams will be completed by the due date on the schedule and you may use your notes and textbooks. Sharing notes and books will NOT be allowed. Completion of any test with the help of anyone else may result in a 0 on the exam and an 'F' in the course. NOTE: Make-up exams for the first 3 exams will be given only in extreme situations and will only be given if you notify me prior to exam day that you will not be able to complete the exam within the 24 hour time period. Make-up exams may be of a different format than the original tests. If you are permitted to take a make-up exam, you will take it at a mutually agreed upon time, as soon after the original exam as possible. I will not allow you to make up an exam if I have not been notified prior to the exam day about your absence. The final exam will not be given at any time other than SPC's officially scheduled final exam day and time. See class schedule. Please plan your travel arrangements accordingly.

Sensitive Nature of Sociology Courses

Given the dynamics of individual, relational, familial, societal and cultural development and issues, behavioral studies courses address many sensitive issues; this course is no exception. Lifespan and relational issues occur in the context of sexual, racial/ethnic, political, religious/spiritual, economic/social class, and disability/challenge concerns. The discussion of such issues will increase the student's knowledge of developmental conditions in the modern world, but the information can be emotionally charged. It is also likely that the student will be exposed to diverse viewpoints; some viewpoints might differ substantially from the student's personal views. If the student chooses to remain in class, then she/he will be expected to respect the diverse viewpoints represented in course material, as well as the viewpoints of his/her classmates. If the student is easily offended by discussion of such issues, then he/she should consider whether to remain enrolled in the course.

Diversity Statement

In this class, the teacher will establish and support an environment that values and nurtures individual and group differences and encourages engagement and interaction. Understanding and respecting multiple experiences and perspectives will serve to challenge and stimulate all of us to learn about others, about the larger world and about ourselves. By promoting diversity and intellectual exchange, we will not only mirror society as it is, but also model society as it should and can be.

Revelation of Personal Information

This course addresses topics that are personal in nature. The student is encouraged to participate in class discussion/presentations, but the student is not required to share personal information with classmates. Also, the student is advised to use discretion in self-disclosure with classmates and the instructor. It is anticipated that fellow students will be respectful and not disclose information that is shared in class, but the instructor cannot guarantee confidentiality of information that the student shares with classmates. Thus, the student is responsible for the information that he/she shares, and should not share information that he/she does not want others to know.

Title IX & Pregnancy Accommodations Statement

SPC is dedicated to providing a safe and equitable learning environment for all students. If you are pregnant, or have given birth within six months, Under Title IX you have a right to reasonable accommodations to help continue your education. To activate accommodations you must submit a Title IX pregnancy accommodations request, along with specific medical documentation, to the Director of Health and Wellness. Once approved, notification will be sent to the student and instructors. It is the student's responsibility to work with the instructor to arrange accommodations. Contact Crystal Gilster, Director of Health and Wellness at 806-716-2362 or email cgilster@southplainscollege.edu for assistance.

SPC does not tolerate discrimination, sexual assault, and harassment. You are encouraged to report any incidents to SPC Campus Police Office at (806) 716-2396 or their 24 Hour Phone at (806) 891-8883. The SPC Student Health & Wellness office (<http://www.southplainscollege.edu/health/studenthealth.php>) provides support (806-894-9611) and the Voices of Hope Lubbock Rape Crisis Center has a 24-hour hotline: 806-763-RAPE (7273).
