“Have something to say, and say it as clearly as you can. That is the only secret of style.”

-Matthew Arnold

INRW 0300 Course Description: INRW 0300 serves as a paired support course for students enrolled in ENGL 1301 who are not yet TSI-complete in reading and/or writing. The focus is on teaching students critical reading and academic writing skills to equip them for success in Composition I. Successful completion of this course fulfills TSI requirements for reading and/or writing.

Prerequisites:

- Students must be TSI-compliant in both writing and reading.
- International students who do not have a TOEFL score of 550 must enroll in ENGL 0301 or 0302 or ESOL 0301 or 0302.

Textbook: Let's Talk A Pocket Rhetoric (Lunsford) print only w/ Inquizitive access ISBN: 978-1-324-10134-5

This bundle also allows students access to online Inquizitive resources, which will need to be accessed upon beginning the course.

Other supplies or necessary tools: Access to computer with printer and internet access / pens & notebook paper

Core Objectives addressed:

- Communication skills – to include effective written, oral and visual communication
- Critical thinking skills – to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation and synthesis of information
- Teamwork – to include the ability to consider different points of view and to work effectively with others to support a shared purpose or goal
- Personal responsibility – to include the ability to connect choices, actions, and consequences to ethical decision-making

Student Learning Outcomes: Upon successful completion of the course, the student will show competence in the course objectives listed below:

1. Understand that writing is an interactive process that includes prewriting, writing, and revision and apply those principles to the assignments/paper
2. Develop papers using appropriate and logical structures and modes
3. Write in a style appropriate to audience and purpose
4. Apply the principles of logic, unity, development, and coherence to create papers that are focused and effective
5. Understand and apply correct grammar and mechanics in writing to promote effective communication
6. Use Edited American English in academic essays
7. Make constructive suggestions for others' writing during peer editing or other critiques/presentations
8. Work collaboratively with other members of the class in order to complete group assignments
9. Read, reflect on, and respond critically to a variety of texts

See <https://www.southplainscollege.edu/syllabusstatements/> for all updated SPC policies and statements.

Attendance Policy: According to the SPC General Catalog (2015-16): “Students are expected to attend all classes in order to be successful in the course. The student will be withdrawn from the course when 1.) absences become excessive as defined by the course syllabus and 2.) in the instructor’s opinion, minimum course objectives cannot be met due to absences.” * Instructor’s note: Every effort must be made to achieve punctual and regular class attendance. You must be present in your own life! Your instructor will take attendance, and will note repetitive absences and/or tardies. In the case that an absence might be reasonably excusable, notify your instructor of the circumstances and make arrangements to take care of all work covered in class during the absence. This class will be taught interactively, so attendance is critical. In order to participate in each day’s activities, students must be present. Students with excessive missed work or more than 5 unexcused absences may be dropped.

- COVID policy: If you test positive for COVID or have been exposed, immediately notify Associate Director of Health and Wellness DeEtte Edens (dedens@southplainscollege.edu) for guidance. If she determines that you need to quarantine, she will notify your instructors. It is your responsibility to contact your instructors to inform them, also, and to make a plan to stay caught up with course work while you are isolated.

Classroom Behavior: While electronic devices, drinks, gum, etc. are not strictly prohibited in class, I advise you to use these types of things minimally, quietly, and respectfully. Cell phones should remain out of view during the class period unless there is an emergency you must attend to. You are also doing yourself a disservice if your attention is not on the subject matter at hand. Keep in mind that we are trying to create a pleasant atmosphere for learning together! We may at times be loud and a bit unruly when discussing topics and assignments, but let us restrict our behavior to being cheerful, friendly, and appropriate in our language and manner. Please refrain from talking, whispering, or passing notes when your instructor or fellow students have the floor. Please also make every effort to arrive and depart in a timely manner as befitting the class schedule – avoiding disruptive entrances and exits when at all possible. Note that if a student exhibits inappropriate behavior, such as sleeping, cell phone usage, unreasonable interruptions of lecture/classroom activity, or disruptive exits/entrances, student may be counted absent.

Disability Statement: Students with disabilities, including but not limited to physical, psychiatric, or learning disabilities, who wish to request accommodations in this class should notify the Disability Services Office early in the semester so that the appropriate arrangements may be made. In accordance with federal law, a student requesting accommodations must provide acceptable documentation of his/her disability to the Disability Services Office. For more information, call or visit the Disability Services Office at Levelland (Student Health & Wellness Office) 806-716-2577, Reese Center (Building 8) 806-716-4675, or Plainview Center (Main Office) 806-716-4302 or 806-296-9611.

Discrimination Policy: The instructor will do his or her best not to discriminate on the basis of age, color, disability, ethnic background, gender, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Diversity Policy: In this class, the instructor will endeavor to establish and support an environment that values and nurtures individual and group differences and encourages engagement and interaction. Understanding and respecting multiple experiences and perspectives will serve to challenge and stimulate all participants to learn about others, about the larger world, and about themselves.

Academic Honesty: Please see the SPC General Catalogue (online at <https://www.southplainscollege.edu>) for policies and ramifications regarding plagiarism and cheating. Your instructor will be watching for signs of any such practice, and measures will be taken to ensure that the consequences for this type of behavior are serious. Respect yourself and others by putting forth original ideas and work in this class.

Artificial Intelligence Statement & Procedure

I have an ethical responsibility to ensure that all students receive credit for only work that they have originally and ethically produced. Any evidence of AI through detection software or faculty review may be subject to further investigation. It is your responsibility as a student to demonstrate that your work is original in order to avoid penalties or plagiarism violations. I encourage all students to keep a comprehensive draft history and track changes in Microsoft Word as a precaution. This is the easiest way to prove authorship and protect your academic integrity as a student in the age of AI. In certain cases, work containing evidence of AI assistance will require an instructor meeting or Zoom conference and/or proctored writing sample. These conferences may be recorded and/or reviewed by additional faculty members, and a determination will be made as to whether there is satisfactory evidence of authorship to earn credit for the assignment. Failure to respond to an instructor request for authorship verification will be considered an acceptance of the penalty for AI usage per the plagiarism policy.

ALL ESSAYS ARE SUBJECT TO VERBAL REVIEW.

4.1.1.4 Title IX Pregnancy Accommodations Statement

If you are pregnant, or have given birth within six months, Under Title IX you have a right to reasonable accommodations to help continue your education. To activate accommodations you must submit a Title IX pregnancy accommodations request, along with specific medical documentation, to the Director of Health and Wellness. Once approved, notification will be sent to the student and instructors. It is the student's responsibility to work with the instructor to arrange accommodations. Contact the Director of Health and Wellness at 806-716-2362 or email cgilster@southplainscollege.edu for assistance.

Classroom Behavior: Since all communication will take place online, please make every effort to behave appropriately in that setting. Discussion between classmates and/or between Instructor and student should always be respectful and professional. Refrain from using offensive language or making derogatory comments. Repetitive or extreme misconduct may result in a drop from the course. Remember that we are here to learn, and we will benefit ourselves the most by maintaining a positive and mature attitude towards others.

Extra Credit Policy: At the instructor's discretion, extra credit opportunities MAY be available, but are NOT guaranteed. They are NOT part of the planned course schedule or final grading, but have the potential to arise based on semester and student progress.

South Plains College English Department Essay Grading Standards

To evaluate essays, the SPC English department uses a set of uniform grading standards. These standards designate that essays in composition classes should demonstrate at least a basic level of competence in college-level writing and be an appropriate foundation for writing in academic and professional environments.

Grading Criteria for Essays

Essays are evaluated on four bases: unity, support, coherence, and sentence skills. The criteria considered in each base include characteristics essential to the success of an essay. Depending on the assignment, certain bases and criteria may be weighted more than others, and the instructor's assignment may establish additional, more specific criteria.

Base 1: UNITY

- Thesis. The thesis statement concisely expresses the main idea of the essay, is appropriate for the assignment, and establishes a sustained and consistent focus for the paper. The thesis may preview the supporting ideas.
- Body Paragraph Structure. A body paragraph includes a main idea expressed in a topic sentence strongly tied to the stated thesis, unified supporting details, and clear connections among ideas.
- Purpose and Audience. The content and style are tailored for a specific purpose and audience.

Base 2: SUPPORT:

- Details/Development. A well-developed essay supports the thesis with ample evidence; uses a variety of specific examples, facts, or other details; and explains the evidence to show its connections to the thesis.
- Logic. The essay presents clear, sophisticated, insightful ideas that recognize the complexity of the topic without inaccuracies or errors in reasoning.
- Use and Documentation of Sources. If research is used, the essay accurately quotes and paraphrases credible sources, effectively balances source material with the writer's own ideas, and cites and documents correctly according to the required standards of the style (MLA, APA).

Base 3: COHERENCE

- Organization and Transitions. The essay demonstrates a logical progression of ideas, provides clear and smooth transitions among ideas, and uses structure appropriate to an academic essay.
- Title, Introduction, and Conclusion. An appropriate title is provided. An introduction captures the reader's attention, transitions to the topic by giving context or background information, and presents the thesis statement. A conclusion reemphasizes the essay's thesis and main ideas and provides a sense of closure.

Base 4: SENTENCE SKILLS

- Use of Standard American English. The essay is written in Standard American English without major errors (fragment, fused sentence, comma splice, subject-verb agreement, pronoun reference or agreement, verb form), and other errors in grammar, spelling, wrong word, punctuation, mechanics, or point of view.
- Word Choice and Sentence Variety. The student writes in a consistent, academic tone, using varied sentence structure and accurate and precise word choice.
- Format. The essay is formatted according to the standards set forth in the assignment, in the syllabus, or in the required style guide (MLA, APA).

Assessment of the Grading Criteria

Essays may earn grades ranging from A to F based on the instructor's grading scale. Depending on the assignment, certain criteria may be weighted more than others, and the instructor's assignment may establish additional, more specific criteria. The quality of each of the criteria determines the letter grade. Not every essay will fit a single grade's description completely. Instructors may also include process assignments and drafts in their assessment of the final grade.

“A” Essay (Superior)

To earn an “A,” a paper meets all of the criteria below:

1. The paper fulfills all the basic requirements of the assignment (for example, topic, purpose, length, format).
2. Unity: The paper states a clear thesis, all topic sentences strongly support the thesis, and body paragraphs are unified around their topic sentences. The essay conveys a clear purpose and is tailored to a distinctive audience.
3. Support: Body paragraphs contain abundant, fresh details and examples that provide specific, concrete, logical evidence. If sources are required, the paper accurately integrates and correctly documents credible source material to add insight, sophistication, and complexity to the paper's ideas.
4. Coherence: The organization of the paper is excellent and logical (emphatic order, chronological order, etc.), transitions are sophisticated, and the paper exhibits mastery of basic components (introduction, conclusion, and body paragraph structure).
5. Sentence Skills: The paper contains no major errors (fragment, fused sentence, comma splice, subject-verb agreement, pronoun reference or agreement, verb form) and is virtually free of other grammar, spelling, wrong word, punctuation, mechanical, or point of view errors. Word choice and sentence variety (simple, compound, complex) are effective and powerful.

“B” Essay (Strong)

To earn a “B,” a paper meets all of the criteria below:

1. The paper fulfills all the basic requirements of the assignment (for example, topic, purpose, length, format).
2. Unity: The paper states a clear thesis, all topic sentences directly support the thesis, and body paragraphs display unity. The essay conveys good awareness of purpose and audience.
3. Support: Body paragraphs are well-developed with specific details, examples, and sound logic. If sources are required, the paper accurately uses and correctly documents credible source material to supplement its ideas.

4. Coherence: The organization of the paper is clear and helpful, transitions are helpful, and the paper exhibits strong basic components (introduction, conclusion, and body paragraph structure).
5. Sentence Skills: The paper contains no more than two major error types (fragment, fused sentence, comma splice, subject-verb agreement, pronoun reference or agreement, verb form) and very few other grammar, spelling, wrong word, punctuation, mechanical, or point of view errors. Word choice and sentence variety are strong.

“C” Paper (Acceptable)

To earn a “C,” a paper meets all of the criteria below:

1. The paper fulfills all the basic requirements of the assignment (for example, topic, purpose, length, format).
2. Unity: A thesis is stated but may lack a strong claim or be obvious or predictable; topic sentences adequately support the thesis. One error in paragraph unity may occur. The essay’s purpose and audience are adequately conveyed.
3. Support: Body paragraphs contain relevant details or logical reasons but need more specific examples/evidence. If sources are required, credible outside sources are usually integrated and cited correctly.
4. Coherence: Organization of ideas is satisfactory, transitions are logical, and the paper indicates competence in basic components (introduction, conclusion, and body paragraph structure).
5. Sentence Skills: The paper contains no more than four major error types (fragment, fused sentence, comma splice, subject-verb agreement, pronoun reference or agreement, verb form). Some other grammar, spelling, wrong word, punctuation, mechanical, or point of view errors are present but not distracting. Word choice and sentence variety are strong.

“D” Paper (Developing)

To earn a “D,” a paper will exhibit one or more of the weaknesses below:

1. The paper only partially fulfills one or more of the basic requirements of the assignment (for example, topic, purpose, length, format).
2. Unity: The thesis may announce the topic but no claim, contain more than one idea, or be too vague, too broad, or too narrow. Topic sentences are not tied to the thesis. Two errors in paragraph unity may occur. Essay conveys little awareness of audience or purpose.
3. Support: Details are sparse or vague and consist of generalizations, clichés, or repetition. If applicable, sources are insufficient and/or not always integrated or cited correctly.
4. Coherence: Organization is attempted but disjointed or confusing; transitions are sparse. The paper indicates awareness of but not competence in basic components (introduction, conclusion, and body paragraph structure).
5. Sentence Skills: The paper contains no more than six major error types (fragment, fused sentence, comma splice, subject-verb agreement, pronoun reference or agreement, verb form). Several other grammar, spelling, wrong word, punctuation, mechanical, or point of view errors distract from the content. Informal word choices occur with little or no variety in sentence type and length.

“F” Paper (Unacceptable)

To earn an “F,” a paper will exhibit one or more of the weaknesses below:

1. The paper fails to fulfill one or more of the basic requirements of the assignment (for example, topic, purpose, length, format).
2. Unity: The thesis is illogical, incomplete, or missing, so the essay lacks focus on one central idea. Topic sentences are missing, so body paragraphs lack unity. The essay ignores the purpose and audience.
3. Support: Details are illogical, irrelevant, or missing from body paragraphs. If sources are required, the paper fails to use sources, does not meet the minimum source requirements, uses source material inaccurately, uses sources that are not credible, fails to document fully or correctly, and/or includes plagiarism.
4. Coherence: Organization is incoherent, transitions are missing or illogical, or the paper indicates lack of competence in basic paper components (for example, lack of introduction and/or conclusion, lack of paragraphing).
5. Sentence Skills: Seven major error types (fragment, fused sentence, comma splice, subject-verb agreement, pronoun reference or agreement, verb form) occur with numerous other grammar, spelling, wrong word, punctuation, mechanical, or point of view errors. Word choice is often inaccurate, immature, or inappropriate. Multiple sentence structure/syntax errors make the paper difficult or almost impossible to read. If one type or a combination of types of errors, regardless of whether they are major or minor, seriously affects the readability of a paper, it will receive an “F.”

INRW Grading Breakdown:

Participation Grade (ENGL 1301 support) 1000 points

Total=1000 points

* INRW Participation Grade accounts for ALL work we do in support of ENGL 1301 assignments. ENGL 1301 scoring points will not be taken unless a student fails to complete a satisfactory amount of participation grades in class. If this happens, points will be taken from ENGL 1301, which will result in an overall deduction. The courses will be treated as an integrated class, therefore failure to complete work satisfactorily in either course will result in the same grade for both. Try to treat the work we do in both sections as an overall effort towards a strong final grade in both courses.
