Southcrest Mission Statement: Southcrest Christian School partners with parents in preparing students with scholastic excellence and a Biblical worldview to engage in God's story.

Deep Hope: My deep hope for us is that as a community we learn to discern the true story that God writes in great literature, accept His invitation to join Him in writing His new work, and in so doing change the world around us, helping write a sentence, paragraph, or perhaps even a chapter in God's unfolding story.

Scope/Purpose: English 1301 helps students develop their writing, reading, and thinking skills to a level that is appropriate for university and professional standards. Students will read and write throughout the course. We will produce a series of major essays that will involve the writing process, requiring students to brainstorm, draft, revise and edit before turning in. We will employ the recursive process to improve our papers. Students will integrate class readings with the written assignment.

Texts / Supplies:

1. "Their Eyes Were Watching God," by Zora Neal Hurston (Students will purchase this from the school.)
2. Access to a computer with printer and Internet access. Unless completed in class all assignments will be printed out using the following standards:
  - a. Times New Roman Font
  - b. 12 Pitch
  - c. Double Spaced
  - d. 1-inch margins all around
3. A one-inch binder
4. A spiral notebook with perforations, one for note-taking and the other for in-class writings.

Requirements:

Major Essays Students will write five major essays, three shorter in-class essays, complete various in-class worksheets, and a final exam. All papers will be typed, double-spaced, Times New Roman font set at 12 pitch, with one-inch margins. Students will employ MLA documentation style when quoting or annotating source material.

Worksheets / Quizzes: We will complete a variety of worksheets and quizzes designed to hone specific skill-sets; developing a strong thesis for example. Normally we will assign and complete these in class. I will use quizzes to assess such things as completing a reading assignment.

Daily Writing: Each class period we will spend some time writing on an assigned topic of the day. Most weeks we will take up one of those writings for a grade. This is largely a participation grade, as the students will not have time for rewriting.

Participation / Behavior: Each week I will assign a grade for classroom participation / behavior. This is an easy way to get an A each week.

Due Dates: We will remain flexible when assigning due dates, taking other school activities into account. That said, once we pick a due date, students must turn the assignment in on time. I will accept appropriately formatted documents via email. Students must use either Google Docs or MS-Word for their assignments. Printer or network problems at home do not justify late work.

Grading Rubric: I will grade activities and assignments according to the following rubric.

Assignments:	30%
Quizzes:	30%
Tests and Essays:	40%

Grading Standards:

“A” Essay (Superior): To earn an “A,” a paper meets all of the criteria below:

1. The paper fulfills all the basic requirements of the assignment (for example, topic, purpose, length, format).
2. Unity: The paper states a clear thesis, all topic sentences strongly support the thesis, and body paragraphs are unified around their topic sentences. The essay conveys a clear purpose and is tailored to a distinctive audience.
3. Support: Body paragraphs contain abundant, fresh details and examples that provide specific, concrete, logical evidence. If sources are required, the paper accurately integrates and correctly documents credible source material to add insight, sophistication, and complexity to the paper’s ideas.
4. Coherence: The organization of the paper is excellent and logical (emphatic order, chronological order, etc.), transitions are sophisticated, and the paper exhibits mastery of basic components (introduction, conclusion, and body paragraph structure).
5. Sentence Skills: The paper contains no major errors (fragment, fused sentence, comma splice, subject-verb agreement, pronoun reference or agreement, verb form) and is virtually free of other grammar, spelling, wrong word, punctuation, mechanical, or point of view errors. Word choice and sentence variety (simple, compound, complex) are effective and powerful.

“B” Essay (Strong) To earn a “B,” a paper meets all of the criteria below:

1. The paper fulfills all the basic requirements of the assignment (for example, topic, purpose, length, format).
2. Unity: The paper states a clear thesis, all topic sentences directly support the thesis, and body paragraphs display unity. The essay conveys good awareness of purpose and audience.
3. Support: Body paragraphs are well-developed with specific details, examples, and sound logic. If sources are required, the paper accurately uses and correctly documents credible source material to supplement its ideas.
4. Coherence: The organization of the paper is clear and helpful, transitions are helpful, and the paper exhibits strong basic components (introduction, conclusion, and body paragraph structure).
5. Sentence Skills: The paper contains no more than two major errors (fragment, fused sentence, comma splice, subject-verb agreement, pronoun reference or agreement, verb form) and very few other grammar, spelling, wrong word, punctuation, mechanical, or point of view errors. Word choice and sentence variety are strong.

“C” Paper (Acceptable) To earn a “C,” a paper meets all of the criteria below:

1. The paper fulfills all the basic requirements of the assignment (for example, topic, purpose, length, format).
2. Unity: A thesis is stated but may lack a strong claim or be obvious or predictable; topic sentences adequately support the thesis. One error in paragraph unity may occur. The essay’s purpose and audience are adequately conveyed.
3. Support: Body paragraphs contain relevant details or logical reasons but need more specific examples/evidence. If sources are required, credible outside sources are usually integrated and cited correctly.
4. Coherence: Organization of ideas is satisfactory, transitions are logical, and the paper indicates competence in basic components (introduction, conclusion, and body paragraph structure).
5. Sentence Skills: The paper contains no more than four major errors (fragment, fused sentence, comma splice, subject-verb agreement, pronoun reference or agreement, verb form). Some other grammar, spelling, wrong word, punctuation, mechanical, or point of view errors are present but not distracting. Word choice and sentence variety are strong.

“D” Paper (Developing) To earn a “D,” a paper will exhibit one or more of the weaknesses below:

1. The paper only partially fulfills one or more of the basic requirements of the assignment (for example, topic, purpose, length, format).
2. Unity: The thesis may announce the topic but no claim, contain more than one idea, or be too vague, too broad, or too narrow. Topic sentences are not tied to the thesis. Two errors in paragraph unity may occur. Essay conveys little awareness of audience or purpose.
3. Support: Details are sparse or vague and consist of generalizations, clichés, or repetition. If applicable, sources are insufficient and/or not always integrated or cited correctly.
4. Coherence: Organization is attempted but disjointed or confusing; transitions are sparse. The paper indicates awareness of but not competence in basic components (introduction, conclusion, and body paragraph structure).
5. Sentence Skills: The paper contains no more than six major errors (fragment, fused sentence, comma splice, subject-verb agreement, pronoun reference or agreement, verb form). Several other grammar, spelling, wrong word, punctuation, mechanical, or point of view errors distract from the content. Informal word choices occur with little or no variety in sentence type and length.

“F” Paper (Unacceptable) To earn an “F,” a paper will exhibit one or more of the weaknesses below:

1. The paper fails to fulfill one or more of the basic requirements of the assignment (for example, topic, purpose, length, format).
2. Unity: The thesis is illogical, incomplete, or missing, so the essay lacks focus on one central idea. Topic sentences are missing, so body paragraphs lack unity. The essay ignores the purpose and audience.
3. Support: Details are illogical, irrelevant, or missing from body paragraphs. If sources are required, the paper fails to use sources, does not meet the minimum source requirements, uses source material inaccurately, uses sources that are not credible, fails to document fully or correctly, and/or includes plagiarism.
4. Coherence: Organization is incoherent, transitions are missing or illogical, or the paper indicates lack of competence in basic paper components (for example, lack of introduction and/or conclusion, lack of paragraphing).
5. Sentence Skills: Seven or more major errors (fragment, fused sentence, comma splice, subject-verb agreement, pronoun reference or agreement, verb form) occur with numerous other grammar, spelling, wrong word, punctuation, mechanical, or point of view errors. Word choice is often inaccurate, immature, or inappropriate. Multiple sentence structure/syntax errors make the paper difficult or almost impossible to read. If one type or a combination of types of errors, regardless of whether they are major or minor, seriously affects the readability of a paper, it will receive an “F.”

Attendance Policy: Since this is a dual-credit course, students must understand the attendance policies of both Southcrest Christian School and Southplains College:

Excerpts from the Southcrest Christian School Attendance Policy:

General: In accordance with the Texas Education Code, students must be in attendance a minimum of 90% of the school year, or they run the risk of repeating the grade level. An auto-generated email will be sent to parent/guardian after a student reaches (6) absences. This is a state requirement. This ensures the student is adequately receiving the academic instruction that is required for his/her grade level. Absences affect student grades and can have an effect on promotion and graduation. Our policy, which follows state guidelines, requires that students not be absent more than eight (8) days per semester or four (4) days for a block scheduled class. This includes any parent/guardian request days that have been taken. Excessive absences will result in the possibility of losing credit and/or the ability to promote to the next grade level. If the administrator determines that instruction has been negatively affected, an educational plan will be enacted.

Specific Items of Interest:

1. If a student is absent two or more days, the student may look on the parent's web to find work missed or it is their responsibility to ask the teacher for make-up work and turn it in on time. The student has the same number of days as they were absent to complete missed work, excluding family trips.
2. If a student is absent due to a school sponsored event, such as a basketball game or concert, all work must be turned in the first day they return to class. Students do not get the same number of days they were absent to make up the work.

Southplains Attendance Policy: Students are expected to attend all classes in order to be successful in a course. The student may be administratively withdrawn from the course when absences become excessive as defined in the course syllabus.

When an unavoidable reason for class absence arises, such as illness, an official trip authorized by the college or an official activity, the instructor may permit the student to make up work missed. It is the student's responsibility to complete work missed within a reasonable period of time as determined by the instructor. Students are officially enrolled in all courses for which they pay tuition and fees at the time of registration. Should a student, for any reason, delay in reporting to a class after official enrollment, absences will be attributed to the student from the first class meeting.

Students who enroll in a course but have "Never Attended" by the official census date, as reported by the faculty member, will be administratively dropped by the Office of Admissions and Records. A student who does not meet the attendance requirements of a class as stated in the course syllabus and does not officially withdraw from that course by the official census date of the semester, may be administratively withdrawn from that course and receive a grade of "X" or "F" as determined by the instructor. Instructors are responsible for clearly stating their administrative drop policy in the course syllabus, and it is the student's responsibility to be aware of that policy.

It is the student's responsibility to verify administrative drops for excessive absences through MySPC using his or her student online account. If it is determined that a student is awarded financial aid for a class or classes in which the student never attended or participated, the financial aid award will be adjusted in accordance with the classes in which the student did attend/participate and the student will owe any balance resulting from the adjustment.

Plagiarism and Cheating: Students are expected to do their own work on all projects, quizzes, assignments, and papers. Failure to comply with this policy will result in an F for the assignment and may result in an F for the course if circumstances warrant it.

Plagiarism violations include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Turning in a paper that has been purchased, borrowed, or downloaded from another student, an online term paper site, or a mail order term paper mill;
2. Cutting and pasting together information from books, articles, other papers, or online sites without providing proper documentation;
3. Using direct quotations (three or more words) from a source without showing them to be direct quotations and citing them; or
4. Giving an in-text citation only at the end of a paragraph.

Cheating violations include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Obtaining an examination by stealing or collusion;
2. Discovering the content of an examination before it is given;
3. Using an unauthorized source of information (notes, textbook, text messaging, internet) during an examination, quiz, or homework assignment;
4. Entering an office or building to obtain unfair advantage;
5. Taking an examination for another;
6. Altering grade records; or
7. Copying another's work during an examination or on a homework assignment.
