How to Use Office Hours

The best way to make sure I'm all yours is to set up an appointment, that way I can block out time just for you. But if inspiration strikes or you just need a quick check-in, you're always welcome to pop by during my scheduled Monday–Thursday hours.

Fridays (9:00–10:00 AM) are for appointment-only meetups, send me a quick email if that's your best time and I'll save you a spot.

Welcome to Art Appreciation

This class is your invitation to see the world differently. We'll explore how art shapes culture, how artists use elements and principles to communicate ideas, and how you can confidently talk about, write about, and experience art. Whether you're an art major or just here for your core credit, this course is designed to expand the way you see and think.

You'll get to discuss, journal, analyze, and even create. Some days will be more lecture-focused, others will be interactive and hands-on. My goal is for you to leave this semester with a deeper understanding of visual culture and a habit of looking at the world a little more closely.
