Course Description:

This course is designed to help you create greater success in college and in life. This is achieved by helping students explore who they are, understand where they come from, and decide where they are going. By applying the strategies of active learning, self-motivation, self-management, self-awareness, and interdependence you will create greater academic, professional, and personal success. The most important part of this course, however, is learning more about yourself. You will learn who you are as a college student and human being, and you will learn what it takes for you to keep yourself balanced and on course for success.

This course is a study of 1) research and theory in the psychology of learning, cognition, and motivation, 2) factors that impact learning, and 3) the application of learning strategies. Theoretical models of strategic learning, cognition, and motivation serve as the conceptual basis for the introduction of college-level student academic strategies. Students use assessment instruments (e.g., learning inventories) to help them identify their own strengths and weaknesses as strategic learners. Students are expected to integrate and apply the learning skills discussed across their own academic programs and become effective and efficient learners. Students developing these skills should be able to draw continually from the theoretical models they have learned. This course is recommended for all students, especially nontraditional students and students on academic probation, and is required for students returning to college after academic suspension or by placement by the Admissions Committee.

Course purpose:

The purpose of this course is to prepare students for college and life success, equipped with knowledge, skills, strategies and tools to apply to accomplish a variety of tasks in varying contexts.

Student Learning Outcomes:

Construct a personal learning system informed by the research and theory in the science and psychology of learning, cognition, and motivation.	Students will read about how learning works, metacognition, victim/creator mindsets, the growth mindset, and complete associated homework assignments, and discussion/journal reflections. Students will identify their personal strengths and weaknesses as a strategic learner and apply their knowledge to classroom learning through discussion and journal posts. Students will demonstrate the use of learning strategies and study skills by taking notes and applying reading and study strategies and completing associated homework assignments and digital exercises. Students will learn cognitive and metacognitive strategies to increase college academic success.
Identify factors that impact learning and apply techniques and strategies to achieve personal, financial, academic, and career success.	Students will take a variety of assessments to identify and understand what motivates their learning (e.g., eLASSI, MBTI, VARK, multiple intelligences), as well as the unique ways in which they learn. Students will reflect on these measures in discussion/journal prompts, homework assignments, and the final reflection success paper. Students will also complete homework assignments relevant to financial, personal, academic, and career goals, culminating in a final reflection paper.
Develop an educational and career plan based on individual assessments and exploration of options.	Students will work throughout the semester to develop education and career plans, including setting up advising sessions, taking career assessments, planning their academic semester, conducting career research, completing relevant homework, reflecting in discussion posts, and completing a final and reflecting on the connections between career and academic goals. Additionally, students will identify and file the appropriate degree plan with proper advisement, write and prioritize short-term and long-term goals related to their time at South Plains College, and explore career options incorporating the use of related assessments and tools.
Identify and understand how soft skills are directly correlated to personal, academic, and career success.	Students will read and learn about important soft skills, including how to accept personal responsibility, discover self-motivation, master self-management, employ interdependence, gain self-awareness, and develop emotional intelligence. This will be done through homework assignments, digital exercises, discussion posts, journal reflections, and the final reflection paper.

Course Evaluation:

Grades are based on the following scale:

90 to 100 = A      80 to 89 = B      70 to 79 = C      60 to 69 = D      0 to 59 = F

Your Grades will be based on the following percentages:

Participation (Discussion Board, Journal Entries, Reflective Responses, Daily Work)	40%
Student Success Assignments (Weekly Assignments, Quizzes)	50%
Final Capstone Project	10%
TOTAL	100%

Missed or Late Assignment Policy:

Each weekly module will open on Friday morning @ 8 am and close the following Thursday night @ 11:59 pm. You may work on your weekly assignments anytime during the 7 days it remains open and available, but the deadline is firm. If you miss the original deadline, you will have an additional 7 days to submit your late work with a 10 point per day penalty; no late work will be accepted after 7 days past due.

Assignment Submission Policy:

Submit all assignments using MS Office tools or PDF files. I MUST be able to open, download, and save your assignments (I do not accept Google Forms or Apple iWorks Forms)! If I cannot open an assignment submission, I will give you one more chance to submit an assignment in the correct format. After that, you will receive a 0 for any assignment submitted in an unapproved or inaccessible format.

Attendance Policy:

Students must actively attend and participate in the classroom and/or online environment to reach a measure of success.

Failing to attend class and/or failing to participate in the online environment will affect your grade in this course. You may be dropped from the course with an 'X' or an 'F' if I believe the objectives of the course cannot be met due to your lack of participation and attendance.

If you have excessive absences, I will try to contact you to make an action plan. If you have excessive absences and you do not respond to my attempts to contact you, you will receive an F in the course.

- Students are expected to log in to Blackboard frequently in order to stay up to date with assignments, due dates, and email messages.
- If a student goes 7 days (one week) without logging in to Blackboard and/or responding to attempts from the instructor to contact them, they may be dropped from the course.

Withdraw Policy:

The last day to withdraw/drop with a grade of "W" is April 24, 2025. It is the student's responsibility to withdraw from this course. Otherwise, students will be assigned their earned letter grade at the end of the course. Course averages will be updated each week, and guidance will be provided throughout the term to help students decide whether they need to drop the class or not. For more information regarding drops/withdrawals, please visit <https://www.southplainscollege.edu/admission-aid/apply/schedulechanges.php>.
