Course Description: A survey of the social, political, economic, cultural, and intellectual history of the United States from the pre-Columbian era to the Civil War/Reconstruction period. United States History I includes the study of pre-Columbian, colonial, revolutionary, early national, slavery and sectionalism, and the Civil War/Reconstruction eras. Themes that may be addressed in United States History I include: American settlement and diversity, American culture, religion, civil and human rights, technological change, economic change, immigration and migration, and creation of the federal government.

Course Objectives addressed:

- 1. critical thinking: to include creative thinking, innovation, inquiry, and analysis, evaluation, and synthesis of information.
- 2. communication: to include effective development, interpretation and expression of ideas through written, oral and visual communication.
- 3. social responsibility: to include intercultural competence, knowledge of civic responsibility, and the ability to engage effectively in regional, national, and global communities.
- 4. personal responsibility: to include the ability to connect choices, actions, and consequences to ethical decision-making.

Course Purpose: To acquaint students with the diversity of American history and to promote critical thinking in interrelating the past to the present. Fundamentally, the course promotes general understanding of a body of knowledge any literate person should possess about the history of his own country.

Course Requirements: To maximize a student's potential to complete this course, he/she should attend all class meetings, complete all homework assignments and examinations in a timely manner, and complete all other projects or papers as assigned in the instructor's specific instructions.

Course Evaluation: See the instructor's course information sheet for specific items used in evaluating student performance.

Attendance Policy: Whenever absences become excessive and in the instructor's opinion, minimum course objectives cannot be met due to absences, the student will be withdrawn from the course.

Learning Outcomes: Upon successful completion of this course, students should be familiar with the evolution of American political, social, and economic institutions and traditions from the arrival of Europeans to the mid-nineteenth century. This would include the ability to:

- Create an argument through the use of historical evidence.
- Analyze and interpret primary and secondary sources.
- Analyze the effects of historical, social, political, economic, cultural, and global forces on this period of United States history.

Expected Student Behavior: Failure to comply with lawful direction of a classroom instructor is a disruption for all student enrolled in the class.

Cheating violations include, but are not limited to: (1) obtaining an examination, classroom activity, or laboratory exercise by stealing or collusion; (2) discovering the content of an examination, classroom activity, laboratory exercise, or homework assignment before it is given; (3) using an unauthorized source of information during an examination, classroom activity, laboratory exercise, or homework assignment; (4) entering an office or building to obtain unfair advantage; (5) taking an examination for another person; (6) completing a classroom activity, laboratory exercise, homework assignment, or research paper for another person; (7) altering grade records; (8) using any unauthorized form of electronic communication device during an examination, classroom activity, or laboratory exercise; (9) Plagiarism. Plagiarism is the using, stating, offering, or reporting as one's own an idea, expression, or production of another person without proper credit.

Grading Criteria: The grade will be taken from quizzes, tests, & lecture response.

Exams: There will be five major examinations during the semester including a final exam on December 11th. The lowest grade on one exam, other than the final, will be dropped. Students may not drop the final exam. Exams will be multiple choice with 1-3 essay questions or a project element. Exams will cover both the readings and the lectures. Final Exam will be comprehensive.

Makeup Exams: If you miss an exam without prior arrangement it will be your drop grade BUT you must take an alternate essay exam for high school. This will be a one-time option only - any other college exam to be taken on an alternate date will result in a 0 or an essay exam. Final exam will be averaged in as 0 if student is not present to take the final comprehensive exam. Prearranged absences are to be scheduled with the professor. The alternate assessment should be taken before the scheduled assessment.

Quizzes will come from your assigned readings. Multiple choice and essay. The lowest grade on one quiz will be dropped.

Makeup Quizzes: If you miss a quiz without prior arrangement it will be your drop grade BUT you must take an alternate quiz for high school.
